

When Mommy Went to Town

I'd like to tell you all about,
A very stormy day,
It rained and rained and rained,
The sky was colored gray.
And daddy stayed at home with me,
While mommy was away.

He made the beds and swept the floor,
And did the washing up.
But after dinner he broke a plate,
Two dishes and a cup!

When I took my bath at night,
He taught me how to swim.
But the water then splashed onto the floor,
And dripped all over him!

Then mommy came home just in time,
To see me lying down.
"Next time I'll stay at home," she said.
"While daddy goes to town!"
